June Monthly Meeting

Speaker: Thierry Laduguie

Forecasting the FTSE 100 with e-yield indicators

Thierry Laduguie has many years experience in the stock market as a successful portfolio manager, technical strategist, writer and researcher. He is a member of the Society of Technical Analysts and holds the Investment Management Certificate. Thierry has been giving investment advice on spread betting first with Onewaybet.com where he was responsible for the UK Stock Tips and FTSE Intra-day services, then with Fleet Street Publications where he was the editor of Spread Trader. He has worked with leading hedge funds as an advisor and is a regular guest speaker at trading seminars. Nowadays he is an investment manager at Twowaymarkets Ltd and advises investors on the short term direction of equity markets.

Thierry will be explaining how he successfully forecasts the FTSE 100 with e-yield indicators. These are the Bullish Trend Indicator (BTI), 13-day BTI and Top 20 Differential. His approach is based on combining Elliott wave theory with his own indicators. He will explain how these indicators work and how they can be integrated in a simple strategy to produce an accurate forecast. Elliott wave theory on its own can be confusing and these indicators have been developed to confirm the position of the Elliott wave count. Thierry will demonstrate how the BTI can help identify Elliott wave patterns and how to use the 13-day BTI and Top 20 Differential as timing indicators. He will show how these two indicators have a good track record at finding market highs and lows.
