Technical Analysis: Art or Science?

Tim has been active in the stock markets since 1984 when he joined L. Messel & Co as a graduate trainee after a short service commission in the British Army and a degree in English Literature at Cambridge University. His interest in technical analysis accelerated when in 1990 he co-founded Stockcube plc, an independent provider of technical research listed on AIM in London. He left in 2004 to set up PH Partners Ltd, also a provider of technical research to institutional investors.

His talk will consist of a broad ranging treatise on the philosophy of technical analysis, in particular an examination of the tension between art and science inherent in the discipline. It is not meant to be authoritative in academic terms, but rather will be an attempt to apply the experience of 20 years as a commercial agent in technical analysis to the broader concepts which so many practitioners take for granted. He will touch on technical patterns and pattern recognition, psychology and behavioural, economics, art and science.

Chairman's Notices

Will members please note that the British Bankers' Association, Pinner's Hall, will continue to host our talks throughout 2009, all on the second TUESDAYS of each month, apart from WEDNESDAY 15th April and TUESDAY 15th September.

The AGM is now scheduled for WEDNESDAY 15th April, and the Nomination Forms for the Board membership have been circulated. They are also available for download from the STA website.

A map also available on the STA website

It would be most helpful if members could continue to make a special effort to be early. Although our policy remains "turn up and go" for members at normal meetings, and the Society's security arrangements have passed muster with BBA so far, we must remain vigilant and endeavour to start on time. Also, please can members ensure they bring up-to-date membership cards. For those members still not familiar with that part of the City, Pinner's Hall is next door to Corney & Barrow in Old Broad St.
